

Aaron Hegji

Counsel | Las Vegas, NV

Aaron assists ultra-high-net-worth clients and their advisors with developing, implementing, and properly administering unique estate planning strategies.

T 702.570.3518

F 702.765.4391

Aaron Hegji assists ultra-high-net-worth clients and their advisors with developing, implementing, and properly administering unique estate planning strategies. He has over 15 years of experience handling trust administration, trust planning, and tax planning matters.

Aaron loves solving new and complex challenges, which makes the intersection of wealth and business with the tax code perfect for him. His clients appreciate his dedication to conveying complicated legal solutions they are comfortable with the path they choose.

Aaron is an adjunct professor at the University of Nevada – Las Vegas School of Law in the area of Trusts & Estates. He is a speaker and lecturer on income tax topics that intersect with the Trusts & Estates field. He serves on a community foundation dedicated to helping Autistic students. Before joining Harrison LLP, he was tax planning counsel for Lobb & Plewe LLP and ERISA and tax counsel for Hutchinson & Steffen. He has represented numerous trust companies and served as Chief Fiduciary Officer and Wealth Strategist for a multi-family retail trust company.

Aaron enjoys taking his family overlanding in the Southwest, writing fiction, and

Capabilities

Estate Planning

Estate & Trust Administration

Tax Planning

Admissions

Nevada

California

Education

University of Nevada-Las Vegas, J.D., cum laude

Portland State University, B.S.

Organizations

Coalition for American Retirement, representative of a Member of the Board of Directors

Nevada Bankers Association – Trust Committee, Member Representative